James Suckling

Lange 2018 Pinot Noir Estate Dundee Hills

Such attractive aromas of spiced bread and blueberries, blackberries and violets with a stony, mineral edge, as well as dried herbs and forest wood. The palate is very rich and packed with darker plums and cherries, as well as blackberries, some cocoa and a long, seamless run of fine yet dense tannin. This hits luxurious notes on the palate. Fine to drink now, but even better from 2023.
