James Suckling

Lange 2016 Pinot Noir Freedom Hill Vineyard

What a nose of pressed violets, cedar, spice box, tobacco, essence of blackcurrant, dried citrus rind, vanilla, resin, redcurrants, hot stones, slate, bark and walnuts. The palate is full and rounded at first then a line of acidity polishes the back of the mouth, introducing lots of velvety tannins. The finish is powerful with a wealth of fruit but still closes with plenty of verve and class. Better from 2020.
