Winery Profile

Don and Wendy Lange founded their eponymous winery and estate vineyard in 1987 with an inaugural vintage that consisted Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Gris. These varietals continue to form the core of their offerings.

Considered New World pioneers in the production of Pinot Gris, Lange Estate was the first in the United States to release a barrel-fermented style, an effort that Wine Spectator senior editor Matt Kramer hailed as a “bench-mark” bottling. Wine Enthusiast proclaimed Lange Estate to be “one of the great Pinot Noir producers in the United States.”

Don's son, Jesse Lange formally joined the winemaking team in 2004 and added vineyard oversight to his list of duties. Together, Don and Jesse have crafted a program of wines that reach across a spectrum of microclimates and terroirs, with six unique Pinot Noir bottlings, each delivering complex flavors along with impressive structure and balance.

Their work, the culmination of thirty-three vintages, has garnered serious accolades from critics over the years, including an impressive 97 points for their 2017 Freedom Hill Vineyard Pinot Noir from James Suckling, “The palate has a rich and dense feel with deep-set tannins that carry a lot of dark-plum and cherry flavors. Such length and weight.” Additionally, their 2015 Estate Pinot Noir received high praise and 94 points from Vinous Media reviewer, Josh Reynolds, “conveys a suave blend of power and finesse and finishes with finely woven tannins, outstanding clarity and strong, floral-driven persistence.”

The original thirty-acre parcel has since expanded to encompass three contiguous estate vineyards totaling more than 56-acres under vine. A state-of-the-art winemaking facility and hospitality center sits at the crown of the estate, the tasting room features stunning panoramic views of vineyards, densely forested rolling valleys, and the Cascade Mountain Range. This destination winery has grown over the past three decades to become an integral part of the renowned Willamette Valley appellation.
