"Jesse Lange at his family's Lange Estate represents a special kind of local winemaker – home-grown, well-travelled and professionally trained. He is in his prime and more than capable of evolving and refining his wines to even greater heights of quality and drinkability." — Nick Stock, jamessuckling.com

Winery Profile

Don and Wendy Lange founded their eponymous winery and estate vineyard in 1987 with an inaugural vintage that included small-lot bottlings of pinot noir, chardonnay and pinot gris. These varietals continue to form the core of their portfolio.

Considered New World pioneers in the production of pinot gris, Don Lange was the first winemaker in the United States to release a barrel-fermented style, an effort that Wine Spectator senior editor Matt Kramer hailed as a "bench-mark" bottling. Wine Enthusiast proclaimed Lange Estate to be "one of the great pinot noir producers in the United States."

Don's son, Jesse Lange, has been actively involved with winery since its inception and formally joined the winemaking team in 2004, adding winemaking and vine- yard oversight to his many responsibilities. Together, Don and Jesse have crafted unique pinot noirs that reach across a spectrum of microclimates and terroirs.

The Lange's have always defined their winemaking along a more classical paradigm: focused wines that express nuanced fruit, structure, balance, and texture. Over the past 37 years, Don and Jesse have continued to hone their style —taking care to never impose on the vineyards or wines they produce.

Their work has garnered serious praise from critics over the years, including an impressive 96 points for their 2018 Freedom Hill Vineyard Pinot Noir from James Suckling. "It has a supple, succulent feel with a sense of levity in this warmer vintage. Then, the mid-palate builds to a firm, commanding yet fine finish, reminding us of where we really are. There's power with purpose here." Additionally, their 2018 Estate Pinot Noir received 95 points and an "Editors' Choice" accolade from Wine Enthusiast reviewer, Paul Gregutt, "This wine is generous, deep and complex, offering dazzling subtlety and detail."

The original thirty-acre parcel has since expanded to encompass three estate vineyards totaling more than 56-acres under vine. A state-of-the-art winemaking facility and hospitality center sits at the crown of the estate, the tasting room features stunning panoramic views of vineyards, densely forested rolling valleys, and the Cascade Mountain Range.

In early 2022, the family acquired a 65-acre property with 20 acres planted to pinot noir, near Monmouth, Oregon. The Lange's have changed the name to Lucky River Vineyards, a nod to the Luckiamute River which runs just south of the property.
